Learning Styles Response

Throughout my time in school I have learned that learning styles definitely have an effect on how we learn. Not only with myself, but throughout school I have noticed that all of my classmates around me ultimately have differing learning styles. I have learned that I am primarily a visual learner, and even though I do not have a complete understanding as to why that is, I do still find it super interesting and I take it into consideration when taking courses, studying, as well as in my day to day job. It does not surprise me that there are a multitude of different learning styles, because at the end of the day everybody is so unique.
